THIS YEAR'S STUDENT RESOURCES

This year we are delighted to offer students the following resources, crafted to enhance students understanding of the key topics for Leaving Certificate agricultural science students.

- Study guides: Access to the agricultural science study guides throughout the school year (30 weeks), plus access to the back catalogue of study guides from 2024, 2023, 2022 & 2021 and student worksheets.
- New & Improved Revision Guide: Following on from the success of the 2025 Revision Guide, a new revision guide will be released in 2026. This will be an essential revision aid for students, featuring: revision notes on the topics covered throughout the year, exam style questions and answers in short and long format plus revision tips.
- *New Podcasts: A series of dedicated podcasts will be created for Leaving Certificate students, featuring revision prep tips, interviews with third level Ag students and information on career opportunities within the sector. Students will also have access to the archive of over 1,000 podcasts and new podcasts released by the Irish Farmers Journal specialist team.
- Student activities: A brand-new student activity will be available each week to supplement the weekly study guide. This resource can be used by students in school or at home to further their understanding of the topics covered in the study guides each week.
- Schools Hub: Access to New and Improved Schools Hub area, the home for all of the Leaving Certificate agricultural science content produced each week. A dedicated space for Leaving Certificate students to focus on the content produced each week that is most relevant to students.
- Video Hub: Access to over 90 videos created specifically for Leaving Certificate agricultural science students. Along with access to the evolving catalogue of Irish Farmers Journal expert videos on farmersjournal.ie,
- Tullamore Farm: Access to information and data from the Irish Farmers Journal beef and sheep demonstration farm in Tullamore. The data will include: details on animal weights, diets, target weights, body condition scores, along with grass growth reports, plus updates from the sustainability initiatives on Tullamore farm.
- Signposting: The Irish Farmers Journal will highlight related articles in the paper, to further enhance students understanding of the topics covered in the weekly study guides.
- Download the e-paper and read offline without an internet connection.
- E-paper archive: Explore over 15 years of past editions of the Irish Farmers Journal through our e-paper archives, including access to study guides from the last four years, and the 32-page revision guide, released in April 2025.
- Access to our app and all farmersjournal.ie content including multimedia learning tools - videos, podcasts, Schools hub and more!

TEACHER RESOURCES

All teachers who sign up a class this year will enjoy the following benefits:

- Weekly student activities: A new addition to this years' Agricultural Science study guides are weekly student activities. Each week, a space will be dedicated within the weekly study guides for a series of student activities, worksheets & comprehension exercises.
- Free teacher subscription: A complimentary subscription to Irish Farmers Journal (including e-paper access).
- Video Hub: Access to the back catalogue of over 90 videos produced specifically for Leaving Certificate Agricultural Science students.
- Access to archive: View the past 4 years of agricultural science study guides online, along with the 2025 Leaving Certificate revision guide.
- Dictionary of essential Agricultural Science terms can be accessed via the Irish Farmers Journal Schools Hub.
