

Student Placement – Production Department – 2023

The Irish Farmers Journal is offering a student placement opportunity in 2023 in its production department to undergraduates / recent graduates of Journalism or related courses.

Start date flexible between March and Summer 2023. 3-month placement with possibility of extension. Paid placement.

The chosen student will gain a broad range of experience in the production (sub-editing/design/photography/multimedia) department, working on the Irish Farmers Journal, Irish Country Living, The Irish Field, Irish Country Magazine, The Irish Garden and other publications as required.

Essential requirements are:

- Journalism or related course undergraduate
- Skills in:
 - Sub-editing
 - Layout and design
 - Writing headlines and captions
 - Adobe: InDesign, Photoshop, InCopy
 - MSOffice: Word, Excel, PowerPoint
 - Digital: CMS, HTML, social media
 - Podcast and video editing
- Ability to generate fresh ideas and work on own initiative
- Work experience in a production/sub-editing role an advantage

Details also on www.farmersjournal.ie/careers

Applicants will be short-listed based on a CV and cover letter. The cover letter should explain in no more than 400 words why you would like to gain work experience on the production team and why you are a suitable candidate for this opportunity.

Interested applicants should send their cover letter and CV by email to the HR manager at recruit@farmersjournal.ie with 'Student Placement production' in the subject line.

Application deadline: Monday 13 March 2023

The company is an equal opportunities employer.